Prestigious Crasftmanship

Mouth blown glass

An exceptionnal craft 'savoir-faire'

The art of the detail

India Mahdavi

One of the most talented designer architects of her generation. Nicknamed «The Queen of Color», her talent places her among the best in the Design Hall of Fame. She imposes herself on the international contemporary scene in a unique way to celebrate a pop orient in the West.

India Mahdavi's Mabouls collection is a real tribute to the art of glassmaking. The objects are mouth-blown by master glassmakers in the Ateliers de Tyr, a charity association, thus creating unique and exceptional pieces. The glass used is extremely light bringing a touch of cheerfulness and fantasy to any interior.

India Mahdavi's Mabouls collection is an invitation to playful design. All sizes and colors can be mixed according to your desires.

Jean-Charles de Castelbajac

A visionary designer, Jean-Charles de Castelbajac anticipated what is now the basis of new creation: art and fashion, misappropriation and collaborations, and invented the concept of collaborations with brands.

Jean-Charles de Castelbajac has worked with many brands, including Swatch, Weston, Kway, Aigle, Vilebrequin, Palace Skateboards, Sézane, etc. His artistic universe revolves around a short chromatic range of blue, yellow and red, one of the finest representations of which was to dress Pope John Paul II, bishops and priests for World Youth Day in 1997.

Passionate about heraldry, the science of coats of arms, vexillology, the science of flags, semiotics, the study of signs, pop art and the world of childhood, his art and fashion bring together these dualities: the epic, the historical, the traditional and the alternative, the underground and the experimental.

He has collaborated with many artists, including Keith Haring, Lady Gaga, Robert Mapplethorpe and Pedro Winter, and his art is also expressed through installations, chalk street art, drawings and paintings.

Mlle Aurélie Bidermann

Parisian of the world, Mlle Aurélie Bidermann has no equal in bringing her inspirations to life through her creations. Traveler at heart, she transmits her memories in her jewels that she has been imagining since her childhood. Daughter of art lovers, cradled in Art-Nouveau, Symbolism and Orientalism, in love with stones, the designer gives full place to exceptional craftsmanship when she gives birth to her ideas. From her pieces created as a child in her bedroom to her luxurious creations, Mlle Aurélie Bidermann distils her memories and invites us on a journey full of emotions.

"In my creations, what I like to express the most is generosity and this is particularly reflected in my way of hosting. I like to play with my table services, my objects, my tablecloths, my napkins, my cutlery, whether they are passed down the family or found during my travels. For this collection, I wanted to highlight the elegance and fantasy that characterize my work through pieces made by hand in embroidery workshops. Creations that I thought of as a tribute to the seasons that have rocked my inspirations for so many years.

Admiring the art of the table since my childhood, I was immediately seduced by Waww La Table's proposal, transforming a beautiful encounter into a joyful and colourful collaboration!"

Olivier Gagnère

Ceramist, glassmaker, cabinetmaker... To say that Olivier Gagnère is a complete artist is a mild understatement! Son of an antique dealer, passionate from an early age for the Decorative Arts, he embraced the profession of artist and designer after studying law. His meeting with the famous Italian designer Ettore Sottsass marks an important step in his creative process. Acclaimed throughout the world for his creations inspired by the Decorative Arts, Olivier Gagnère offers timeless objects that shake up the codes of geometry for a new balance, relying on a subtle interplay of lines.

“Working with hand-turned ceramics has something magical about it. Each object, shaped by a craftsman, has its own personality. The relationship with craftsmen is close to my heart, I consider myself a composer of music, and even if you write the most beautiful score, without someone capable of interpreting it, it does not exist (...) I played on simple and constructed shapes, small objects that can match different decors. There is a visual and tactile game in this collection, creations that give the possibility of composing tables, mixing each version.

I adore Péri and Arabelle, it's always pleasant to work with pretty, playful and energetic women!»

Jean Boggio

Jean Boggio is a Franco-Italian artist born in Algeria. Very early on, he was lulled by the colours and smells of the Mediterranean and the Orient which would nourish his imagination.

After training as a jeweler-goldsmith, he developed his universe through sculptures like jewellery. He then transcribes his beautiful stories on decorative arts objects, from crystal to goldsmithery, from furniture to textiles. The craftsman-artist then attracts the recognition of the greatest houses such as Daum and Chopard, who ask him to create collections for them. Will follow creations in glass, crystal and ceramics for prestigious brands such as Haviland and Baccarat.

Jean Boggio is above all a storyteller and an outstanding narrator who immerses us, through his creations, in the ancient legends that rocked his childhood. This collection, called "Temptations", refers to Greek and Persian mythologies where the pomegranate symbolizes beauty and eternal life. It is also a fruit synonymous with prosperity and wealth, that is also called the "apple of paradise". Declined on a collection of glasses and plates with baroque shapes, the pomegranate appears here in a very stylized way to create unique and exclusive sculpture-objects.

Bela Silva

Bela Silva is a renowned Portuguese ceramist whose childhood was steeped in the traditional ceramics of her country. She has collaborated with the biggest names and has exhibited in the biggest art galleries around the world.

She explores a wide range of media, including drawing and ceramics. Bela draws her inspiration from universes as varied as trinkets discovered in flea markets and antique shops to works of art in museums, but above all from her flagship element: nature.

Bela Silva has imagined exclusively for WawwLaTable a special collection of dreamlike sculptures echoing artisanal and exotic cultures: monochrome and geometric pieces that will embellish your tables every day.

The collection is made up of several decorative and functional object-sculptures to place on tables : jugs, candle holders, table vases, etc.

They are works of art that you will use every day.

Andrea Zanconato

His encounter with a tableware maestro who works with silver changed his destiny. Patience and meticulousness are the watchwords of the man based in Paris, each work being unique and worked by hand in his Venetian workshop.

These hand-worked silver pieces, which are sometimes found with a gold vermeil finish, reflect Andrea Zanconato's passion for craftsmanship, between finesse and elegance. A complete artist with established know-how, the Italian specialist in bespoke jewellery is unrivalled in conveying his attachment to manual work.

“Challenged by the originality and sensuality of the Waww La Table logo, I wanted to create a jewellery-like napkin holder. Behind my approach, there is a pure and hard craftsmanship, the physical contact between man and object, an equation to be taken as it is. Each piece I create is unique, hammered and polished by hand. A physical relationship is established with the object, the very definition of craftsmanship in my opinion. For Waww La Table, I imagined a Waww napkin holder in two versions, silver-plated and 24-carat gold-plated. The sandblasting technique on the hammered metal gives a more contemporary matte effect that is better suited to its use in the world of the table.»

Charles Zana

Over the last thirty years, architect Charles Zana, who trained at the Beaux-Arts in Paris, has found his own style, forged his own style and drawn the lines of force that are sought after by demanding clients from all over the world who are looking for a vision. Charles Zana creates interiors that are 'curated', artistic and full of meaning, warm and adapted to the lives of their occupants. The result is impeccable execution combining luxury and intelligence, where the architect steps aside to let his creation speak for itself.

In recognition of his work over the last two decades, in 2019 he has been named Chevalier des Arts et des Lettres by David Caméo, director of the Musée des Arts Décoratifs. The Stella candleholders were created by architect Charles Zana to represent a constellation.

Made from lightweight ceramic, it can hold twelve candles, whose number and arrangement can vary according to your desires, creating a different lighting atmosphere each time. Available in four strong, refined colours, as a table centrepiece or decorative object, it will become a must-have in your home.

Ara Starck

Ara Starck is a renowned French designer, known for her creative and innovative work in a variety of fields. She has worked on the design of private residences, restaurants and living spaces, often incorporating artistic elements and bespoke pieces to create unique spaces.

She is also an artist in her own right, exhibiting her work in art galleries around the world, and has created products ranging from furniture to decorative objects, with a focus on innovation and contemporary design. Her versatility and unique, original artistic approach have made her an important figure in the world of design and creation. Through her work at the Le Meurice, Le Brach and the Reserve Eden hotels, Ara Starck has always maintained a close link with the hotel and restaurant industries through her interior design and frescoes. She is always on the lookout for the magic of a place, its history, and tries to create a dialogue with the people who live there, offering you the chance to share her highly original, phantasmagorical universe.

For WawwLaTable, she has developed a collection of exclusive «Acrobates» plates, which reflect this universe and allow you to share her originality and unique aesthetic on your table every day.

Yann Le Coadic

Yann le Coadic, interior designer, has invented a suggestive architecture where the narration of each project is unique. His projects are so special that it is more appropriate to speak of emotion, habitat, pure lines, and above all of technique for a tailor-made art of living, then mere signature. Immersed in the world of fashion from the start, designing boutiques for Loulou de la Falaise, Rochas, Nina Ricci, he opened his agency in 2001. His work evokes a sense of proportion, speaks of light and above all he likes to create timeless objects that come out of "déjà vu". It is in this artistic impulse that he designed a collection of tableware for Waww La Table which summons pure lines, elegance that will illuminate your table, and for a long time.

Discover "Locmaria", the tableware collection that architect Yann Le Coadic has designed exclusively for Waww La Table. Totally unique in the contemporary landscape, Yann Le Coadic likes to design and draw suggestive objects enriched with dreamlike images. Always very eclectic, to create this exclusive collection, he chose to draw on his Breton origins, from the wild beauty of Belle-Île-en-Mer, to get inspiration and capture all his essence in this remarkable collection in white biscuit reminiscent the foam of the Breton sea. Each piece is a true work of art, adding a touch of poetry to each table.

José Lévy

José Lévy is a Parisian artist who navigates with talent and poetry between the worlds of fashion, decorative arts, design and museum installations. His whimsical and humanistic approach is the starting point and the driving force behind each of his projects. He designs singular and intimate objects by calling on his childhood memories and his experiences of life inspired by Japan.

For this bright red ceramic collection inspired by Japan, José Lévy chose the name AKA, which means red in Japanese. The red circle, the central theme of this collection, is a nod to the rising sun.

Aurélia Stouls

We are crazy about her washable leather! We wear since its invention her dresses, her pants, her tops. And as in the kitchen you can easily stain yourself, now, thanks to Aurélia, you can be stained in style!

“Through my leather apron, I wanted to show that Stouls leathers can easily stain, mark, patina, even in the kitchen, since they go in the washing machine! Like wrinkles, I find the traces of time and usage terribly sexy! Giving a new, original functionality to my scraps of leather in a chic and sharp design, all the DNA of Stouls, were a source of inspiration to create this apron. An apron that reminds me of memories of large family and friendly tables, without forgetting the naughty part evoked by leather and apron! Why a collaboration with Waww La Table? Because Waww the friendship, like Waww L’Objet By___!»

Nada Debs

Lebanese based in Beirut, having travelled the world, the designer Nada Debs exercises her talents in multiple fields. From a childhood spent in Japan to the Rhode Island School of Design (RISD) in the United States where she studied, passing through her many travels, Nada Debs feeds on her memories to imagine pieces combining modernity and craftsmanship, technology and tradition. Winner of the «Design Awards 2022», her collections are a unique mix where culture takes its place, each piece carrying stories and emotions.

A philosophy summed up by Nada Debs: «Made by hand, made with heart» The wooden trays covered with embossed leather marquetry by Nada Debs bring a touch of elegance and sophistication to your table. With their original design and quality finish, these trays are the ideal accessory for formal meals or special occasions.

Leather embossed patterns add a whimsical touch to the simplicity of wood, providing a unique and exclusive product for your home.
